DREAM ROOM MAKEOVER MOODBOARD

Plan your dream room using our template and be in to win $2000 cash and $500 of Resene paint and wallpaper to make it happen

Moodboards help crystallise your random ideas and design preferences into a strong and cohesive interior style. They're invaluable in a redecorating or renovations project. Make it, then manifest your dream room into a reality.

1 Decide which room you're going to create a moodboard for. Start by collecting images and clippings of colours, textiles, decorating styles, patterns, hardware and furniture you like. A pattern will start to emerge, whether it's natural, tonal colours and textured linens, or a palette of blue and white, canvas and white-washed tables.

2 For painted colour inspo, load a photo that could be interiors, landscapes or even favourite memories into the Resene Colour Palette Generator, resene.co.nz/palettegenerator. It will suggest a palette of Resene colours to help get you started.

3 Cull the images and ideas that don't fit with the emerging look.

4 Paste the remaining pictures into the main area of the board.

5 Then, do the same with other materials, furniture, fixtures, hardware, lighting, Resene paints and wallpapers and decorative accessories.

6 When you've got your vision together, you'll then need to track everything on your moodboard down but don't be afraid to swap things out to suit the budget you're working with, or swap a large light for a smaller one that better suits your house.

TO ENTER

Considerations

- + Your moodboard should now be ready for you to decide whether you've got the balance right. Ask yourself if you have too much of the same colour, texture, clashing patterns or decorating styles. Now is the time to edit what you're seeing.
- + Once you feel you've got everything right, show what you have to the people whose opinion you trust for a fresh perspective.

+ You want the room you're working on to be harmonious with the rest of your home.

+ While you're aiming for common themes and elements be sure to add some contrast to avoid monotony.

+ Ensure you have a focal point – this could be the fireplace, a colourful feature wall or a stunning piece of art.

+ Don't forget that the little details matter, consider everything down to the door handles to leave no margin for error.
